Color and cut-out this ‘Save the whales’ card! You could use a hole-punch and some ribbon/string to turn it into a gift tag. Or, add some glue to turn it into a sticker for your notebook. It would also make a great bookmark! Get creative with it!
I know I am helping the ocean when I use my reusable produce bag for my fruits and veggies.

This little ‘reminder’ note can be colored and cut-out. Use it as a grocery list (food, tote, and reusable produce bag reminder, etc.) or any list that would be helpful!
There are many dangers in and out of the ocean, but I try to protect myself and my community by wearing a reusable mask!

"Justice and Compassion for All Should Be a Goal for Everyone." — Lauren Ornelas

Color and cut-out this quote by F.E.P.'s founder and president. You can use it as a bookmark, sticker (if you add glue or tape), wall decor, etc.

Note: In the fictional world of Sharktopia - these fish can breathe fine in their reusable cloth masks (made special for them). ♥
Did you know that many disposable tea bags contain plastic? I'm glad I can use my reusable tea ball (infuser) and help keep the ocean healthy!

Color and cut-out these fun tea items! A tea ball infuser with a Mola mola charm and a tea-cup you can decorate however you wish! Use them as gift tags, bookmarks, ornaments, combine them into one, etc.
My reusable cloth napkins are great for wiping my claws especially when you’re underwater.

Before I go out to eat, I always bring my own containers for leftovers. It’s an easy way to keep plastic waste out of the ocean.

Color and cut-out these cards. Give them to anyone who needs a smile.

If these cards are printed without scaling (not ‘fit to page’ or adjusted) they’re 3.5” x 2” (standard business card size)

I’m so glad you’re here. You are so amazing! Thank you!

Just in case no one told you today... Thank you for everything you’ve done & everything you’re doing.
I bring my reusable metal straw with me wherever I go! I’m grateful it helps keep me and my friends safe from plastic pollution in the ocean.

Share your appreciation with someone. This cut-out can be colored and folded in half to create a card!

Grateful for all things big & small.

SHARKTOPIA®
www.sharktopia.org

FOOD EMPOWERMENT PROJECT
because your food choices can change the world
www.foodempower.org
Color and cut-out this stack of silly octo pals to create a fun bookmark! (Or use them for a different crafty project!)

I’m well-armed to protect the ocean against pollution with my reusable utensils! They’re easy to carry around in case you need them (and still have arms to spare).
I love to cozy up with a warm drink, so I bring my reusable mug with me everywhere! It also helps keep single-use cups from becoming waste.

Color and cut-out this uplifting mini door hanger! Cut along the dashed lines. If the opening (hole) is too small for your door-knob, just cut it a little larger.

Q: WHY DID THE OTTER CROSS THE ROAD?
A: TO GET TO THE OTTER SIDE!

YOU ARE OTTERLY AMAZING!
With a life that lasts 50–100 years, I’m one of the oldest living animals in the ocean... but plastic lasts for even longer!

These turtles can be colored, cut-out, and used for so many things! (Gift tags, ornaments, decor, etc.)}
I’m so sorry – I couldn’t stop them. If they weren’t trying to capture fish (like me) they wouldn’t have caught you.

Referred to as “by-catch” these animals usually drown after becoming entangled in the nets and are often discarded.

#FIGHT4THEOCEAN
You can learn more about this through Food Empowerment Project: www.fightfortheocean.org